June 6, 2019 (St. Louis, MO) - The Contemporary Art Museum St. Louis (CAM) announces its summer teaching artist-in-residence, Dail Chambers, who begins her residency with the Morning Play Date on Saturday, June 8 at 10:00 am. Chambers brings her experience and creativity into the planning of activities for families at the museum throughout the summer. Chambers believes art is a human resource, and it is from this perspective she designs activities for Morning Play Dates, the Family Day Block Party, and other workshops, community events, and summer festivals. Like CAM's DJ residency with Syna So Pro, this new position is part of a longtime initiative that allows for audiences to engage with talented local artists, and provides those artists with financial support in activities directly related to their practices.
