July 22, 2019 (St. Louis, MO) – The Contemporary Art Museum St. Louis (CAM) announces the call for artists for Open Studios STL 2019. For the fourteenth year, CAM partners with artists, galleries, alternative spaces, arts organizations, and universities in St. Louis City and County to make their studios accessible to the public for one weekend—October 19–20, 2019—promoting dialogue between artists and audiences within the artists' working environment.

To be eligible, artists must maintain working studios or spaces in St. Louis City or St. Louis County. Artists actively working in galleries, co-working spaces, university campuses, residency programs, and other alternative spaces are eligible to participate.

Locations west of Grand Boulevard will be open to the public on Saturday, October 19, 10:00 am–5:00 pm; locations east of Grand Boulevard will be open to the public on Sunday, October 20, 10:00 am–5:00 pm.

- There is no fee to register and participate.
- Interested artists may visit camstl.org/openstudios for submission guidelines and further information. Submissions will not be accepted if guidelines are not followed.
- Registration is open until Sunday, August 18, 2019, 11:59 pm, CT. All accepted artists will be listed on the Open Studios STL website (openstudios-stl.org) and printed map.

About the Contemporary Art Museum St. Louis

The Contemporary Art Museum St. Louis (CAM) presents, supports, and celebrates the art of our time. It is the premier museum in St. Louis dedicated to contemporary art. Focused on a dynamic array of changing exhibitions, CAM provides a thought-provoking program that reflects and contributes to the global cultural landscape. Through the diverse perspectives offered in its exhibitions, public programs, and educational initiatives, CAM actively engages a range of audiences to challenge their perceptions. It is a site for discovery, a gathering place in which to experience and enjoy contemporary visual culture. CAM is located in the Grand Center Arts District.
